

LSBU Sports Conference

Thursday 29 October 2015, 9:30 to 4:30

London South Bank University, Keyworth Street, SE1 6NG

We are pleased to announce the 3rd LSBU Sports Conference 2015. The goal is to bring together the researchers and practitioners in sport for an exchange of knowledge. This year the topic for the keynotes and discussion is: Temperature and altitude: how does the environment affect performance?

Submit a summary of your poster presentation on any topic of Sport Science!

We welcome contributions from researchers, coaches and sportspeople for poster presentations in all areas of sports science, including sports medicine and sports practice.

Exhibitors are invited to showcase their state-of-the-art products and services. Various sponsorship opportunities are available for industry to advertise their engagement in the field of sport. For information on this, contact Dr Rita de Oliveira r.oliveira@lsbu.ac.uk.

I really enjoyed the conference! The lectures were varied and having a break before the panel discussion gave people the chance to think of questions they really wanted to ask!
